

2016 Research Priorities

Approved 11-18-2015

The Texas Soybean Board is soliciting research and market development proposals for FY2016. Proposals are due to the Board by the close of business on January 29, 2016. An individual may be listed as a principal investigator on only one proposal. The Texas Soybean Board has a limited amount of funding and will give priority to projects that provide a high amount of funding leverage.

Proposals must take into account the differences among regions of the state.

Proposals will be accepted in the following areas:

1. Weatherability of soybean varieties at harvest (high humidity)
2. Drought tolerant soybean varieties
3. Developing soybean processing facilities in Texas
